WE ARE MORE THAN A RECOVERY SOLUTION. WE ARE A RECOVERY PARTNER.

No matter where you are, ServiceMaster Recovery Management can be your recovery partner for projects of every size. Whether it is our resources, response time or expertise, there are many reasons to choose SRM.

From the initial emergency response to the final step of restoration, SRM is the single-source solution you can rely on. We provide you with one point of contact, one shoulder to lean on — and one giant sigh of relief.

We offer 11 strategically positioned command centers, over 3000 first responder locations and over 40,000 certified technicians SRM has an unmatched footprint and capabilities in the restoration industry. That means we can respond to disasters efficiently, safely, and effectively.

Our team has managed projects as large as $56 million in scope in the most sensitive of environments, such as educational institutions, military installations, healthcare facilities, clean-rooms, data/telecommunications centers and many more.

A division of ServiceMaster, SRM, is here to Restore Peace of Mind with the backing of ServiceMaster, a $3 billion company. We tailor our recovery plans to your specific needs, no project is too big, and no detail is too small. After all, every restoration is unique. This is another example of our dedication to service. And we believe it is what being a partner is all about.
